Global Language Tandem

Inter-university language tandems made easy

New: Connecting languages together – across university boundaries

The Global Language Tandem (GLT) is a new, cross-university project to promote language learning partnerships.

Initiated by the University of Bayreuth in cooperation with matorix, GLT brings language enthusiasts worldwide into contact with each other – flexible, virtually and in a low-threshold way.

Language tandems with vision

Language tandems have always been a central concern of matorix.

Over 10 years of experience and numerous tandem partnerships speak for themselves – supported by our platform matorixmatch.

GLT is one step ahead:
Instead of organizing tandems only within one university, we enable networking across countries, institutions and cultures.

How it works

- The University of Bayreuth is responsible for the content design and the support of the participants
- matorix provides the technical infrastructure and matching platform
- Participants register independently in the GLT portal. Registration is possible at any time.
- The system automatically determines suitable tandems and informs the participants
- On request, you can receive evaluations and statistics for your university

Your benefits at a glance

- Cross-university access to an international tandem pool
- Intercultural exchange through virtual mobility
- Optional: Exclusive matching with your partner universities
- As a managed SAAS solution, you can start immediately at any time.
- No human resources for operating needed.

Take part now – and bring languages to life!
